

techpedia

Gandhian Young Technological Innovation Award 2017

SRISTI celebrates the creativity and innovation of young technological students by recognising their outstanding projects with Gandhian Young Technological Innovation (GYTI) Awards. Next year, these awards are due tentatively on March 5, 2017 at Festival of Innovation (FOIN), Rastrapathi Bhavan, Delhi. Student projects completed during 2014-15 to 2016-17 are eligible.

Last date for submission of entries is November 30, 2016 at www.gyti.techpedia.in

The categories are:

More from Less for Many (MLM) or Frugal Innovation Award

SRISTI Social inclusive Innovation Award

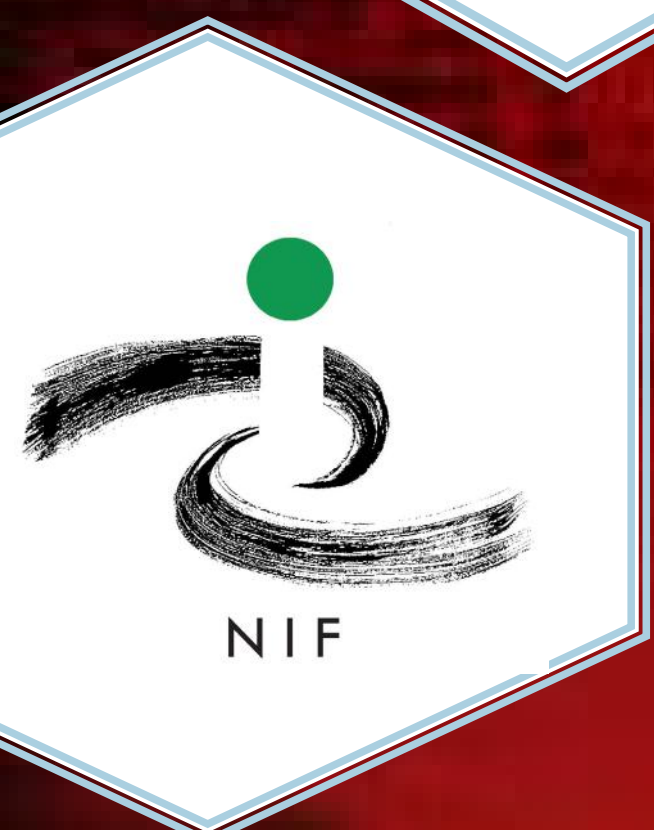

Technological-edge Award

Financial support is also given to some of the awardees as per following windows of opportunity:

BIRAC-SRISTI GYTI Awards – ₹ 15, 00,000 grants each for further research / prototype development work to 15 awardees of medical and biotech field

BIRAC-SRISTI GYTI Appreciation Awards – ₹ 1, 00,000 to be given to 100 Grassroots and student innovations / ideas (School/UG/PG) for value addition at different labs including SRISTI Sadbhav Sanshodhan Lab

Hari Om Ashram prerit, Dr. Amulaya K. N. Reddy GYTI Award – ₹ 50,000 each to Five students.

For queries, please email us at gyti.techpedia@sristi.org,
Call us at 079 27913293, 27912792.
Please see www.sristi.org, www.techpedia.sristi.org